Fueling the next generation with local, healthy food

LOCAL

We're American Food Products for a reason

Supporting American Farmers, Starting with Montana

American Food Products sources locally grown ingredients when in season. We contract with farmers and ranchers on a local, state and regional basis. FDA and USDA approved facilities transform local ingredients into institution-ready packages.

Bridging Barriers

Lack of small food processing has been identified as one of the largest barriers to providing local food to the school systems. Montana Food Products LLC functions as a processor and a much-needed liaison between growers, distributors and public schools.

HEALTHY

We support healthy eating habits in two primary ways:

1. Fresh Food

By sourcing local ingredients we provide schools with healthy foods that have a fresh-from-the-garden taste, increasing participation in school lunch programs.

2. Omega3 Nutrition

Research has proven the vast health benefits of omega-3 fatty acids, including their crucial role in brain function and normal growth and development. Research has demonstrated that American diets are deficient in essential fatty acids.

Products which contain Omega-3 fatty acids can be identified with the Certified Source symbol:
