

Great Falls Public Schools

Good Apple Award Recipients

Becky Nelson, Community Connections Manager, Kerry Dattilo, Human Resources Director, Jennifer Martin, Shannon Guilfoyle and Brian Miller, Elementary Principals, Tara Rosial, NMS Middle School Principal, Geff Habel, GF High School Principal, Lance Boyd, Student Services Director, Ruth Uecker, K-6 Assistant Superintendent, Heather Hoyer, 7-12 Assistant Superintendent, Stephanie Schnider, GFPS Foundation Director, Marni Napierala, K-6 Teacher on Special Assignment, Charlene Ammons, Technology Integration Coach, Daneen Pate, K-6 Assistant Superintendent Administrative Assistant, Sandy Bennett, HR Administrative Assistant, Kelly Wiles, Tracy Milton and Bridger Lutz, Teachers at GFH, and Tom Cabbage, Great Falls Education Association President were recommended for a Good Apple Award by Superintendent Tom Moore because of the following: I would like to recognize the following people for their outstanding effort to bring the High Voltage Weekend to the "Electric City" in order to recruit and hire new teachers for Great Falls Public Schools. First and foremost; Becky Nelson who was the primary organizer and driving force behind the event. Secondly, Kerry Dattilo who was instrumental in the planning and implementation of the event as well. In addition, Marni Napierala, Jennifer Martin, Brian Miller, Lance Boyd, Geff Habel, Tara Rosipal, Heather Hoyer, Ruth Uecker, Stephanie Schnider, Tom Cabbage, Kelly Wiles, Charlene Ammons, Daneen Pate, Shannon Guilfoyle, Sandy Bennet, Tracy Milton and Bridger Lutz, all gave of their time over the weekend of February 11-13, 2022 to make this event a success for the School District and the community. To date, the District has been able to hire approximately 14 new teachers as a result of this event.

In honor of the innovation, dedication and commitment of these leaders, I ask that they be given the prestigious, GFPS Good Apple Award.